IDEAS – SOLUTIONS – RESULTS

A complete suite of on-line personal computer training courses, covering Windows, Office, Palm and others.

Credencia Ideas lead to solutions that bring results to individuals, associations and employers.

CREDENCIA SOLUTIONS

Credencia helps employers, associations and individuals as they strive to increase employee's and individual's personal skills, validate credentials or meet professional requirements for education or re-certification of licenses and certificates.

Our premier quality interactive educational courses and executive presentations are available on-line and our integrated content development team can create customized programs and events to meet any corporate need: Interactive Presentations, video/audio broadcasts and inter-active programs, etc.

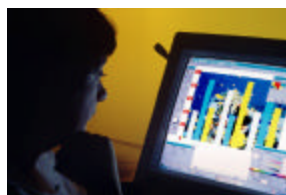

Our content catalogue includes materials approved for Continuing Education credits for re-certification of credentials (e.g. SHRM/HRCI for HR Professionals) and professional examinations (e.g. Microsoft for MCSE certification, etc.)

SOLUTIONS FOR CORPORATIONS

Credencia's extensive library of over 3,000 hours of on-line training content covers IT, HR, Personal productivity, Finance, OSHA, Legal, Marketing and business operations. Courses are fully interactive, offering the individual an in-depth experience in learning new skills and knowledge, refining current aptitudes and skills and developing new tools for the future.

Corporations can track coursework, activities and training offered to their employees, suppliers and sub-contractors. The comprehensive reporting functions allow Credencia to interface with existing corporate e-learning and management systems, providing a seamless experience for employees and individuals. Corporate pricing & course discounts are available for corporations and their employees.

Over 3,000 hours of on-line, interactive training courses, live events and Executive Presentations are available 24/7 at corporate rates.

SOLUTIONS FOR INDIVIDUALS

Each individual has a secure personal account through which they can access interactive courses, personal training classes, Executive Presentations, live events and corporate training materials.

Individuals can build a pro-forma of their requirements, set goals and track their progress against their established milestones and targets. Courses remain active in their accounts for various periods of time, allowing them to re-take courses and review content. Results of exams are consolidated into a central results section for future review and individuals can create a customized resume from their academic and educational history.
